Subj: DESIGNATION OF NAVAL PLACES OF CONFINEMENT

Ref: (a) SECNAVINST 1640.9B
(b) Military Handbook, Brigs and Detention Facilities,
MIL-HDBK-1037/4 of 15 Jul 89 (NOTAL)
(c) OPNAVINST 1640.9
(d) MCO 1630.3D (NOTAL)

Encl: (1) Naval Places of Confinement

1. Purpose. To identify designated naval places of confinement. This instruction is a complete revision and should be reviewed in its entirety.

2. Cancellation. SECNAVINST 1640.11C.

3. Background

a. Naval shore brigs are established at shore commands to support the confinement requirement for that geographical area and are designated per reference (a) by Secretary of the Navy (SECNAV) as naval places of confinement. Brigs shall conform to reference (a) and subordinate service directives in order to retain designation as naval places of confinement.

b. To promote effective and efficient corrections management, the Military Services, under the auspices of Department of Defense (DoD) consolidation, have classified correctional facilities based on a number of items, including gender and length of sentence. A Level I confinement facility may confine prisoners who are pretrial or have up to one year of confinement. Navy Personnel Command (NAVPERSCOM (PERS-84)) or Commandant of the Marine Corps (CMC (POS-40)) shall determine and publish the confinement capabilities of Level I facilities. A Level II confinement facility will confine and provide correctional treatment for prisoners serving sentences of up to five years. Male prisoners with more than five years to serve (i.e., Level III) will be normally transferred to the United States Disciplinary Barracks (USDB), Fort Leavenworth, KS. The Naval Consolidated Brig, Miramar, CA is designated as the DoD Female Level III confinement facility.

4. Designation Criteria

a. The naval shore facilities listed in enclosure (1) are designated as naval places of confinement per reference (a).

b. Shore commands, where there is a need for pretrial and short-term post-trial confinement (normally 30 days or less), may establish pretrial confinement facilities (PCFs). These shall be designated as naval places of confinement by SECNAV as required by reference (a). Naval places of confinement listed in enclosure (1) and meeting the requirements of a PCF may be redesignated as a PCF by NAVPERSCOM (PERS-84) or CMC (POS-40) without further action by SECNAV.

c. PCFs shall conform to the fire, life, safety, security, and berthing requirements of references (a) through (d), as appropriate, and will not normally exceed a rated capacity of 20 detainees/prisoners. NAVPERSCOM (PERS-84) or CMC (POS-40) will provide criteria for staffing, correctional programs, and other related functions.

5. Action

a. Submit requests for designation as naval places of confinement to SECNAV via NAVPERSCOM (PERS-84) or CMC (POS-40).

b. Classifications as outlined in paragraph 3b of this instruction that conflict with reference (a) will be incorporated in the next revision of reference (a).
